Minea has gotten seven members in the family in such her parents, her grandparents, her younger sister, her younger brother and herself. She is the first born in the family. Her parents are farmers. They have owned one hectare and half of farmland to transplant rice. Minea narrated, currently, her siblings and she have been living with her mother and grandparents because her father has been working as labor in Thailand for many years ago. She said during three to four months her father sent money to her mother at once but she didn't know how much money her mother got from her father.

According to current standard of living, they have transplanted rice and they have gotten two tons and half of rice in a year. But in amount of rice's output that her mother and grandparents gathered from the rice field they sold it out for one and half ton and got $325 of income due to support their daily expenses. Although they earned that amount of the revenue from selling rice but it was inadequate to work out the living condition well. Therefore, they had to raise some chickens and grow a few types of vegetables for sale reservation in order to patch up their daily needs, Minea narrated.

Regarding Minea, she hasn't attended the classes regularly because sometimes, her mother needed her to maintain the vegetables at the field.
